Drama Week Drawing Near

Two new posters herald the coming performances of "The Thrice Promised Bride," "The Queen's Enemies" and "Doubling in Brass" on the evenings of November 28, 29 and 30 and December 1.

Perry Newberry, Carmel's most versatile resident, is the designer of the poster for his production of the Dobie melodrama. He not only drew the design but cut it out on the wood block. He also cut the block for the general poster heading designed by Dr. Alfred E. Burton to be used for future Arts and Crafts productions. This design is a picture of the front of the new Little Theater on Monte Verde street. Below is printed information concerning the three plays.

Dr. Burton is again at work building the sets for the two one-act plays. The sets for "The Thrice Promised Bride" and "The Queen's Enemies" are from original designs by John Northern Hilliard.

Casey, a man, Miss May Harris Anson, is rounding up props.

Jo Mora has given up sculpturing for the next week or two. He has decided to become an actor, taking the part of the villain in "Doubling in Brass." The only other change in Mr. Newberry's cast is in the part of Attorney Fulton. Andrew Jacobsen will play the part instead of Argyll Campbell.

Among the actors who will appear in the Chinese play are F. R. Bechdolt, William T. Kibbler, John B. Jordan, Hilda W. Argo, Adele Bechdolt, Georgia White, James Worthington, Alfred E. Burton and W. L. Overstreet. "The Queen's Enemies," we shall see, amongst others, Blanche Tolmie, Margaret Fitch, Tom Bickle and Perry Newberry.

Carmel Doing Its Quota of Highway Repairs

Repair work on the highway near the northern limits of the city have been under way since last Tuesday. Contractor Sydney Ruthven has a crew of men and the necessary machinery on the job, which should be completed next week.

With this bit of roadway in good shape, the entire route from Carmel to Monterey will have an excellent surface, thus making trips over the hill a pleasure rather than a nightmare.

The Pine Cone has long agitated this improvement.

Picturized Publicity

The current number of the Bulletin of the League of California Municipalities is decked out with a pretty illustration of the Carmel Mission.

The 1924 convention of the League of California Municipalities will be held at the Hotel Del Monte, and every issue of that splendid monthly magazine between that time and the present will be illustrated by some Monterey Peninsula scene with an appropriate writeup.

Island Travelers Home

Harry Leon Wilson and wife and Ernest Schweninger, who have been voyaging in the South Seas for several months, arrived home Thursday evening. The other members of the party who left here, Mr. and Mrs. Charles King Van Riper, have gone on to New York. They will probably be here in February.

Court Sustains Trustees in Harrison Library Action

Judge J. A. Bardin has rendered his decision in the matter of the estate of Ella Reid Harrison, deceased, giving the Board of Trustees of Carmel-by-the-Sea the right to dispose or convert in any manner the real estate, bonds, books and other personal property left by Mrs. Harrison and use the proceeds not only for the construction of a library building, but also for its equipment and maintenance. Every point made by City Attorney Argyll Campbell was sustained by Judge Bardin.

The following excerpts from Judge Bardin's decision cover the important points involved:

"Not only was it manifestly intended to make the real property and the twenty bonds of the City and County of San Francisco all applicable to the consummation of the testamentary desires of Mrs. Harrison, but the terms of the trust undoubtedly commit to the discretion of the trustees the manner of the application of such property to the end contemplated by Mrs. Harrison. That is to say, it will be proper for the trustees to determine how such real and personal property may best be used to fulfill the express and necessarily implied, desires of the donor of the trust. And if it becomes necessary to convert the property of the trust into other forms of property, real or personal, in order to effectively accomplish the purposes of the trust, the trustees no doubt will possess such power.

"It has been suggested that the property dedicated to the charitable trust may only be used, directly, or in converted form, for the purpose of constructing a building in which to house a library; and that none of the rest of the trust may be used for the purpose of equipping or maintaining such building or such library. I think this was not the intent of Mrs. Harrison, and is not the proper deduction to make from the terms or the spirit of the testamentary papers. It was, no doubt, the desire to perpetuate the memory of her husband that caused the testatrix to undertake the creation of a library. It was to be known as a memorial library. But the testatrix desired at the same time to benefit, in a substantial and splendid manner, the people of Carmel-by-the-Sea. The library, with the usual library service was deemed the essential thing, not the building alone, nor the books alone, or both without the continuous use of the public. A mere monument, like a stone, a tomb, or even a building, devoted to no beneficial use, might serve as a memorial; but it was intended to dedicate the property here involved to a continuous beneficial use for the public. The term "memorial library" as used in the present instance, should be understood as signifying a library where the public may be accommodated or served with the use of books, which accommodation and service is provided as commemorative of some deed, thing or person.

"It is more than an edifice or place where there may be assembled a collection of books. It is the continuous opportunity afforded the public to procure for temporary purposes, books, magazines and such similar printed matter, commonly found in a library. The testatrix had in mind, when she executed her will, more than the mere erection of a building to house a library. She contemplated a continuous library service open to the public of Carmel-by-the-Sea, and all in memory of her distinguished deceased husband. She gave to the trustees, in trust, all of her books stored in a particular place, and certain furniture to be placed and kept in the library building when completed, as well as certain etchings.

"In order to carry her intention to the end desired, it seems to me proper, in both the moral and legal sense of the word, to commit into the hands of Mrs. Harrison's chosen trustees, the administration of the trust, vesting them and their successors, with all necessary authority to apply the property of the trust so that at some suitable place in Carmel-by-the-Sea, a library building may be constructed, equipped and thereafter maintained.

"And, in conclusion, I may add that it is my opinion that the trust created as aforesaid, is a valid, subsisting, charitable trust, created and existing in conformity to the requirements of the law, and as such should be enforced.

"Let a decree of partial distribution be drawn in conformity with the foregoing opinion."

Women's Federation Meets Here Today

This morning at 11 o'clock at Arts and Crafts Hall the Monterey County Federation of Women's Clubs will convene in quarterly conference. A large attendance from all parts of the district is assured.

A very interesting business session will be held, including the presentation of papers and discussion of current topics in which the federation is interested.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 in Pine Inn, and will be followed by a program arranged by Miss M. De Neale Morgan of the Carmel Club of Arts and Crafts. It follows:

Group of songs, Mrs. Roberta A. Leitch, accompanied by Mrs. Irene Cator.

Readings by Mrs. Sydney Yard. Address, "Legislation," by Miss Anne Martin.

Song by Mrs. Roberta A. Leitch. Illustrated talk, "Carmel Eclipse Expedition," James H. Worthington.

Double Auto Tragedy on Carmel Valley Road

One of the most tragic accidents which has occurred in this vicinity happened Wednesday morning in Carmel valley, when a car driven by Hugo Futterer of Pacific Grove, formerly in the retail butcher business in this city, plunged down a twenty-five foot embankment, pinning himself and Miss Erna Voegel, his niece, recently arrived from Germany, under the car. Their plight was not discovered until seven hours after the accident, by which time the young woman was dead.

Mr. Futterer died at 10 o'clock Thursday night. He had been a resident of Monterey Peninsula for many years and was prominent in fraternal circles.

Important Matters Before City Trustees

There will be an adjourned meeting of the Carmel city trustees next Tuesday evening. Matters scheduled for discussion and probable action include the business license ordinance, zoning ordinance, and sewer construction finance. The matter of street signs is not on the program.

Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Laumeister of Palo Alto spent a few days this week at their cottage on Dolores St., with Mrs. A. T. DeForest as their house guest. Mrs. C. M. Somers and Mrs. E. Stamp of Cleveland, Ohio, motored down from San Francisco to be their luncheon guests on Thursday.

Marshal Must Execute Deeds

The second decision of the week affecting property and tax matters in this city was rendered by Superior Judge J. A. Bardin on Wednesday.

The action was brought by Percy Parkes, for himself and others, against August England, marshal and tax collector, to compel him to deliver deeds to certain lots which were purchased from the city because of delinquency in payment of Ocean avenue improvement assessments.

The attorneys for the plaintiff, Treat & Campbell, averred that an obvious error existed in the law, and that it should be interpreted so that the purchasers at the sale should be entitled to deeds at the expiration of the redemption period — one year. They also claimed that the amendment to the defective act by the last legislature applied to the sale, regardless of the fact that the amendment was made subsequent thereto. The judge agreed with them.

The case was decided upon a demurrer to the complaint, which was sustained. There was no disagreement as to the facts.

Hudson, Martin & Jorgensen represented the defendant.

Prager Home Involved in Suit by Contractor

L. E. Lewis, former builder of this city, and H. J. and Bessie Prager, who recently built a home here, are defendants in a suit for $400, instituted by W. H. McConnell, electrical contractor of Monterey.

Woolf & Thompson, plaintiff's attorneys, alleges, it is said, that Lewis was responsible for McConnell's share of the wages on the job. The complaint prays that McConnell be allowed to sell the Prager house in order to pay for labor and materials.

New Art Journal Out

The Pine Cone is in receipt of a new Los Angeles publication, "For Art Sake." It is issued fortnightly by Sigard Russell, head of The Pot-boiler, an exhibition studio for artists, and also a place of entertainment. Mr. Russell has a warm spot in his heart for Carmel.

"Wee Acorn" to Appear

The first issue of "Wee Acorn," monthly journal of the pupils of Forest Hill Outdoor School, will be in the hands of its subscribers Monday. It is an interesting little paper with various departments written and edited by the children themselves. The advertising shows a commendable desire on the part of business people to help finance the venture. The publication is a product of the Pine Cone Press.

To Speak at Mission

Miss Emma H. Mills and Miss Donaldina Cameron, associated in the work of the mission school for Chinese in San Francisco, will relate some of their accomplishments at the praise meeting of the Carmel Missionary Society next Wednesday, 8 o'clock, at the Presbyterian chapel, Eighth avenue and Dolores street. All are invited to enjoy the other features of the Thanksgiving program.

Annual Red Cross dues are being paid at the Pine Cone office, and will be received up to Thanksgiving.

IT IS BEST NOT TO SAY IT!

Bad news travels faster than good news. There is an old saying, "No news is good news." Let a man be converted at a church service and there is not much of a stir, but let a resident be convicted of some crime and the news leaps by word of mouth from one end of the community to the other.

How thoughtlessly unkind we sometimes are when neighbors of ours suffer misfortune! Troubles are bound to come to us all in some shape or form and what we say about our friends and acquaintances today may apply to us tomorrow. News is no respecter of persons.

We are prone to consider the ways of others not our ways when we should be watching our own step. What folks say of one another sometimes hurts more than anything they could have done. News, either good or bad, grows and becomes exaggerated and distorted with peddling. When the news is good it makes no material difference how it is exaggerated or distorted—it can never do anyone positive harm. But bad news, given wings, may bring sorrow and ruin upon people who certainly are not deserving of a punishment beyond the penalty of their mistake.

More charity for others will mean more charity for ourselves and we will gradually come to take a keener delight in reporting something good of some person than something bad. Good is constructive, bad is destructive. Just before you are about to let out a bit of "bad news," stop and think a moment. See if you can't think of something good to say in place of it. The chances are ten to one that you can and that you will.

MARKETING A COMMODITY

A clever writer in the Boston Transcript illustrates the meaning of advertising in terms of simplicity.

Imagine yourself a member of a very small, isolated community. Black meets you on the street and says: "Brown, I am making buckets now at my factory—do you know of any one who wants to buy one?" You reply that you do or you do not, as the case may be. Black then meets White and asks him the same question. Now, if the community is small enough, it won't be long before every one who wants a bucket, and who can afford to buy one, hears that Black is manufacturing buckets.

Or, more imagine yourself a member of a very large community. Again Black is the bucket manufacturer. Instead of asking you or White if you know who wants to buy a bucket he will take steps toward a quicker means of finding his market. Instead of speaking to men individually he seeks to inform the community. He knows that to sell his buckets he must have a market. To have a market his goods must be known to it. To make his goods known he must talk about them. To talk to the greatest number of potential buyers most effectively he must advertise in that medium which reaches these potential buyers.

A few minutes on the phone and week's washing is out of the way.

That's our family washing service.

Instead of the long tedious hours spent at back-breaking work, or in supervising a laundress, you will have the leisure you've always wanted.

All you have to do is to gather up everything that needs washing—including blankets, curtains, wash-rugs—and turn them over to our route man.

Promptly, on a specified day, your goods will be returned to you sweet and clean, laundered the way you would have it done—your garments and linen carefully folded, ready to use or put away.

You'll find this service most reasonable, especially when you consider the time and worry it saves you.

Recent guests of Mrs. S. B. Hunkins were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Johnson of San Jose.

The Clappett boys—Donald, Paul and Frederick—were last week guests of their aunt, Mrs. Mary Clappett Young.

Miss Agnes S. Roehling, Oakland school teacher, spent the week-end here with her mother, Mrs. Henry P. P. Larouette.

Mrs. Herma Rupe Smith, one time Carmelite, who has been east for some years, is here for a visit: may remain permanently.

Mr. and Mrs. David Oliphant and Mrs. F. E. Wells of Oakland spent a few days here in the Wells cottage on Mission Point.

Business connected with Monterey Peninsula Communities took Fenton P. Foster to San Francisco last week-end. Mrs. Foster also went.

Miss Beryl Sale, Miss Helen Woodbridge, Harold and Al Arnot motored down from Berkeley last week. They were guests of Mrs. John Arnot.

Miss R. Rothrock, a high school teacher in Salinas, entertained a party of friends here over the week-end. They occupied the Polhemus cottage.

Charles Berkey of the Bank of Carmel spent several days in San Francisco recently. To a man born and bred in Chicago the big town looks good once in a while.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolla V. Watt of San Francisco were guests of Miss Margaret Stewart over Armistice Day. Mr. Watt is an insurance man, and prominent in church work.

Mrs. W. T. Beatty and niece, Miss Louise Husted, from Flossmore, near Chicago, are at Pebble Beach for the winter. Mrs. Beatty is a sister of Mrs. M. B. Brinton of Carmel Highlands.

Mrs. Sophia Dierssen, mother of Miss Laura A. Dierssen, passed away in San Francisco last Saturday, after a brief illness. Another daughter, Mrs. Karl Hoffman, left here for New York recently.

Billy Heron completed a dozen years the other day. The event was celebrated by a party at the paternal residence in the Eighty-acre tract last Tuesday, which was attended by a number of young hopefuls.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hand had as week-end guests George Kegg and wife, who drove down from San Francisco with Mrs. D. F. Bostick. The Keggs were much interested in the marionette show—with themselves left out.

Upon his arrival in Honolulu Ray C. DeYoe found that his mother, Mrs. Rose J. DeYoe, had much improved in health. It is probable that he will return here shortly with his mother and his two aunts, Mrs. Lillie Hanson and Mrs. Kate Woods.

MAKE SOME SAD HEART GLAD

Christmas the Time for Remembering
Those Not as Fortunate as You Are.

Christmas is a sad time in some households, among the older members who miss familiar faces always associated with family gatherings—a list of missing ones which increases as the years go by. But if it is impossible to be happy one's self, it is always possible to make some one else rejoice—this is an easier task than some people imagine. So many are so foolish as to think that because they cannot give beautifully that it is not worth while to give at all. They forget that what seems very little to a person in comfortable circumstances may appear very large to those who have virtually nothing at all; while among friends a small gift, bearing some sign of thoughtfulness, is often more acceptable than a costly but ill-chosen present. This is an excellent time to go over the children's toys and select those which can be spared to go to some less fortunate little ones. Do not select only those which are too battered to be recognizable; such, of course, are not to be despised, but a little glue and a few stitches to freshen up a broken doll or torn book add much to the pleasure of a second-hand gift—for all children love fresh-looking things and it is, besides, scarcely generous to give away only such articles as would otherwise be thrown in the ashes.

WANTED—A MAN TO LEAD
There isn't a lad but wants to grow
Manly and true at heart,
And every lad would like to know
The secret we impart.
He doesn't desire to slack or shirk—
Oh! haven't you heard him plead?
He'll follow a man at play or work,
If only the man will lead.

Motor and golf and winter sport
Fill up the time a lot,
But wouldn't you like to feel you'd taught
Even a boy a knot?
Country and home depend on you,
Character most we need;
How can a lad know what to do
If there isn't a man to lead?

The Empty, Raggedy
Stockings

What of the empty, raggedy stockings
That will hang by the chimney on Christmas eve,
With their mute appeals from the poor little owners
To the dear old Santa in whom they believe?
For their share of his presents they ask such a little,
"Just a doll to hold in my arms while I sleep,
A little tin auto that runs when you wind it,
A sounding red drum or a woolly white sheep."
The only light in their dim, dark existence
Is that wonderful day when old Santa will come
With his creature filled pack that he brings on his back
From his fairyland, merryland, toyland home.
What beautiful dreams will come to them sleeping
Under the coverlet shabby and worn;
But what of the empty, raggedy stockings
That will hang by the chimney on Christmas morn?

THE GIFT-GIVING PROBLEM is with us once again. Whether the Christmas purse is heavy or light the use of cards extending kindly greetings gains favor with the passing years. The affluent supplement their numerous gifts of price with these timely printed words of cheer. The less fortunate find them a satisfactory substitute for the more expensive gifts. The expression of seasonable sentiment is always looked for with pleasurable anticipation, and the question of cost should not affect the measure of acceptability in giving or receiving.

THIS SEASON'S SHOWING of seasonable greeting cards is distinctive in both quality and design, with a wide range of sizes and colors. Many designs have appropriate words of cheer already printed or engraved, awaiting only the name of the sender to speed them on their way. Many others are blank, ready for the expression of an original thought. All are splendid value at the prices quoted, and a satisfactory job of printing is always guaranteed. Envelopes to match. ## On a Flight of Butterflies

Oh! airy light against the entrancing sky
Like Autumn leaves or flight of birds on high,
In ecstasy of bliss—so soon to die;
In radiant joy they danced each butterfly.

Die, did I say? In the Empyrian blue
There is no death—life, life, alone is true;
Out of a seed the stately pine tree grew,
Out of a chrysalis these radiant creatures flew.

Our souls are not of earth, the spirit sings,
This is the message which all Nature brings
Which heals the heart of grief and woe that stings,
And list'ning hear the beat of Seraphs' wings.

RED CROSS ADVANCING IN HEALTH CAMPAIGN

Extends Service to New Fields and Brings Healing Hope to Remote Sections.

"The supreme opportunity for leadership" for the American Red Cross is its health service. Thus a committee made up of prominent physicians, sanitarians and public health experts, after months of exhaustive study, reported and urged that not only should the Red Cross continue its present service, but should undertake a comprehensive educational campaign along public health lines. The annual report of the American Red Cross, just issued, discloses that it has grasped this opportunity in the fields of public health nursing, instruction in home hygiene and care of the sick, nutrition work, first aid to the injured and in water life-saving.

Health service is fundamentally, historically and practically an important function of the Red Cross, and each year marks its extension into new fields and along broader lines. In the Red Cross Nursing Service there are enrolled nearly 40,000 nurses, 20,000 of whom served during the World War. The past year Red Cross nurses were assigned to duty in isolated sections of Alaska and North Carolina and to work among the fishermen of Penobscot Bay, Me.

The Public Health Nursing Service, inaugurated by the American Red Cross in 1912, which operates chiefly in rural sections untouched by other public health agencies, has 1,088 Red Cross nurses working under the direction of Chapters. This work has won so high a regard that many of the nurses are taken over by the local authorities to maintain health services for their communities. Instruction in Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick is noting a steady advance. Since 1914 certificates of proficiency have been given 304,427 women who completed the Red Cross course. In the last year 26,595 certificates were awarded and 65,901 students were under the instruction of 1,054 Red Cross nurses.

The benefits derived from meals balanced to meet each person's peculiar needs is winning widespread recognition through the work of the Red Cross Nutrition Service, particularly in the schools. During the school year 1,638 carried on regular instruction in nutrition, reached more than 150,000 children and adults. More than 2,250 volunteers assisted in this work. Throughout the country 35,333 health meetings were held under Red Cross auspices, attended by approximately 254,500 persons.

RED CROSS MET TEST IN JAPAN FUND DRIVE

Spirit of Service Demonstrated in Readiness for Nationwide Activity.

When President Coolidge by proclamation designated the American Red Cross as the medium through which contributions for relief of the Japanese earthquake sufferers should flow, the President's desire came as an order to the Red Cross. Immediately the entire machinery of the organization was put in motion and within 24 hours the fund campaign was moving with vigor in every part of the country.

This emergency test demonstrated the peacetime readiness of the Red Cross to cope with stupendous tasks in behalf of humanity. Within a month it had collected upwards of $10,250,000 in contributions, landed ten cargoes of supplies at Japanese ports and was keeping pace with relief requirements—all without a single dollar of the fund being spent for administration.

President Coolidge, in expressing his thanks to the people, said: "When the news of the tragedy in Japan first reached us, the American Red Cross, pursuant to a proclamation, asked the country for $5,000,000 to meet the great emergency. The answer to this appeal was prompt and generous; in less than two weeks a sum far in excess of the original goal was given."

The work of the Red Cross for Japan is expected to influence a very large enrollment of new recruits during the Roll Call, which starts Armistice Day.

The Reading Circle Monday evening and the Boys' Club Wednesday evening will be resumed next week.

Mrs. C. S. Lawler is leaving in about two weeks for Phenix, Arizona, where she will spend several months.

YULETIDE IN THE COUNTRY

Christmas Day in the Old Farm Home
Recalls Fond and Pleasant
Recollections.

 CHRISTMAS in the country. Christmas day in the old farm home. What pleasant memories it recalls to some of us, and what good times it will mean for many of us this year. There is really no place like the farm home for Christmas good times and jollity and good cheer. Here, if anywhere, prosperity and plenty abound, and in family gatherings and in neighborhood reunions, with an abundance of the fruits of our labor with which to spread our bountiful boards, old friendships may be renewed; new ones made, and even the stranger within our gates may be added to the list.

At Christmas time we may put into practice the real principles of neighborly living. Living close together does not always make neighbors. Speaking acquaintances are not always neighbors. To be real neighbors we must have the spirit of neighborliness in our hearts which prompts us to get together once in awhile, to gather around a well-laden table and feast, and visit, and laugh and joke and have a rousing good time. To love our neighbor as we do ourselves, we have to know him pretty well, and there is nothing like these neighborly reunions as a means of getting acquainted.

It may be that some of us will have to do a little mental and spiritual housecleaning before Christmas day dawns. We shall have to rid ourselves of all the old rubbish of grudges, dislikes, jealousies and ill feelings which we will find pigeon-holed away when we begin to overhaul the accumulation of the years. You will have to throw all this into the discard before you can get into the real Christmas spirit, because the two will not mix. If you have wronged your neighbor in any way, Christmas is a good time to make reparation. And if you feel that you have been wronged, why, just forget it, and the Christmas spirit and the Christmas "get-together" will do the rest. Christmas should be a time of peace and good will to all mankind, and not to a few favored friends. It should be a time of reviving old associations, of renewing old friendships, and of making new friends, and the peace and good will, the neighborliness and good fellowship thus revived should not be allowed to die out as the yule fires cease to burn, but should flow out in a plentiful stream to enrich our lives through all the days of the coming year.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE
XXXIII—OREGON

IT WAS the Spanish who laid claim to the discovery of our Pacific coast. In 1543 Ferrello possibly sailed as far North as the Oregon boundary. In 1579 Sir Francis Drake explored for England the coast considerably north of this. Other Spaniards made further explorations and Captain Cook, the English navigator, in 1783 landed at Nootka Sound and gave it its name. Thus both Spain and England laid claim to this region.

The American rights to this territory were based on the discovery of the Columbia river in 1792 by Captain Robert Gray, who sailed from Boston in the ship Columbia to open up fur trade. Many American fur traders followed and in 1811 John Jacob Astor, the head of the Pacific Fur company, established a settlement called Astoria at the mouth of the Columbia.

The real opening of the Northwest was the result of the famous Lewis and Clark expedition.

By 1843 a decided flow of emigrants from the East travelled over the Oregon Trail from Kansas City to the Columbia river, and thus into Oregon. The trip over this route occupied about three months and the settlers generally travelled in large parties to withstand any possible attacks from Indians.

American settlers became so numerous that the United States actively laid claim to this region. Spain had been forced to withdraw any rights she may have had when Florida was ceded in 1819. This left England and America quarrelling over this section of the country. Final settlement, with definite boundaries between the United States and Canada, was made in 1846.

The Oregon territory was formed in 1849 and the State of Oregon was taken into the Union in 1859 with an area of 96,000 square miles.

Advance of American Novelist

Henry Kittell Webster is perhaps the most expert technician among American novelists. He understands the novel and handles it with an ease that marks a master craftsman. His approach, too, differs from that of the novelists who seem to start out with a definite thesis, a something to be proved or a problem to be solved, a purpose either ethical or philosophical apart from the desire to tell a story. Mr. Webster's work has ethical and philosophical content in full measure, but he is primarily interested in his story as a novel, a presentation of a cross-section of life. He will not compel his characters to do this or that, but lets them, as it seems, work things out for themselves. His method here is comparable to that of the old masters. Of course, it is the most subtle form of art in its apparent artlessness. The thing that strikes one most about his people is that they are never echoes. They do not read like anyone you have read about before. Each is new; just as each human being is a new entity in himself or herself. Mr. Webster's people are not built up from any formula but just seem to happen, each in his own way. That is more evident in his novel, "Joseph Greer and His Daughter," than in any of its predecessors; it indicates a growth in ability, a wider, surer vision.

Noted Opera Director Succumbs

Concluding the final chords of "The Miserere" on a piano in his studio, in New York, Richard Nicosia, widely known as an operatic coach and director, was seized with apoplexy and died soon afterward. Nicosia once was director of the English Aborn Opera Company, the Creators Opera Company and the San Carlos Opera Company. Many singers who have appeared in both the Metropolitan and Chicago Opera companies have been tutored by him.

De Mille Signs Life Contract

Cecil B. De Mille, noted motion picture director, has signed up for life with the Famous Players-Lasky Corp. The completion of the agreement having been announced by Jesse L. Lasky upon his departure for New York.

De Mille will be director-general of the Lasky organization, which announcement set at rest rumors of a split between the director and Lasky.

De Mille, in a statement, said the picture industry was suffering from "high blood pressure," and that 25 per cent must be deflated from present cost of production before the industry will be healthy. Salaries will be slashed liberally during coming weeks, he said.

When fire wipes out your business—what then?

Fire protection is cheap; the lack of it costly.

Safe-guard your business today with Fyr Fyter Extinguishers

Robert G. Leidig, the Fyr Fyter Man

What about your records, your books, your valuable papers? What about your own time that is wasted, getting your insurance claims settled—and the useless work of getting new plans, new bids, new equipment? Where are your customers going to buy while you are getting ready to start your business again?

Do you think you can win them back without cost, from your competitors? What is going to happen to your clerks or workmen? Can they afford to sit around and wait until you are ready for them? Are you going to be able to get them back when you need them again?

Stop and figure out whether your fire insurance money will cover the entire cost of getting your business back to the stage it was when fire wiped it out.

The words "fully insured" are deceptive—they give you a false sense of security. The insurance companies may give you all the fire insurance they can—but with the warning that FIRE PROTECTION is as necessary as fire insurance.
